Non-Physical Domestic Violence Signs of Abuse and Solutions

• Carolyn Inmon - CTA/NEA/Retired
• 40 year career in education
• Co-Author with Tanya Brown
• Just because a person doesn’t put hands on you, that doesn’t mean they aren’t abusive.
• Abuse is control, blatant disrespect, and also hurtful words.
• Don’t settle for emotional abuse thinking it’s ok because it’s not physical.
7 Characters of Non-Physical Domestic Violence

- Mind Game Player
- Isolator
- Jealous Stalker
- Emotional Robber
- Money Monger
- Pseudo Parent
- Silent Knight
Equal Opportunity, Advancement and Promotion of Women

Despite support at the top, gender equity is a long way off at most US Companies.

What to do about it.

How does this affect me?
Women’s Equity Day was introduced into Congress by Congresswoman Bella Abzug in 1970. The resolution designating August 26 as Women’s Equity Day passed in 1971 and every President since has signed a Resolution designating this day as Women’s Equity Day.

August 26 marks the anniversary of women getting the right to vote. On August 18, 1920, Tennessee became the 36th state to ratify the 19th Amendment giving it the two-thirds majority necessary to make it the law of the land. It was certified on August 26, 1920 and from that day on women were able to vote in the United States.
Sexual Trafficking – How does this affect Educators

Human trafficking is a contemporary form of slavery. It is the illegal trade in people (children and adults) for the purpose of commercial gain – through sexual exploitation and forced labor.

The United Nations estimates that 2.5 million people from 127 countries are trafficked.
Sexual Harassment, Gender Based Violence, and Bullying That Targets Educators

What is Consent?

How are educators targeted?

Can you help avoid sexual harassment?
Gender Based Violence

School violence can include bullying, intimidation, gang activity, locker theft, weapon use, assault.
