

An Invitation

The Thought & Action Review Panel invites you to submit articles for future issues of the journal.

Thought & Action, NEA's peer-reviewed journal of higher education, seeks to provide its readers with theoretical and practical information on issues in higher education that are important to faculty and staff. We are interested in good writing in any form—from personal essays to scholarly discourse, from empirical studies to passionate polemics—about all aspects of academic life.

Submissions are blind-reviewed by members of the Thought & Action editorial board and the six-member Thought & Action review panel.

Contributors to Thought & Action should follow the Chicago Manual of Style (15th edition) in the preparation of manuscripts, using the “humanities style” for endnotes and an alphabetic list of works cited. Submissions should be emailed as Word attachments to the editor. Please include name and email address on the title page only. Manuscripts typically should not run more than 15 pages or 4,000 words, including tables, footnotes, and references.

Manuscript submissions are welcome throughout the year. Visit Thought & Action at www.nea.org/thoughtandaction to see the latest issue and most recent calls for papers.
