

NEA's READ ACROSS AMERICA: CELEBRATING A NATION OF DIVERSE READERS

Cover images used with permission.

TITLES FOR TEEN READERS

Understand the hurdles Sara and her family faced to rebuild their lives after fleeing Iran and the anxiety that being an undocumented immigrant added to her awkward teenage years.

The experience of being a Native American woman is vividly illustrated in poems, essays, interviews, photographs, and art.

After a horrific bombing, Tareq must travel with his father and one surviving younger sister, Susan, from war-torn Syria to Turkey to Greece.

After the death of her dutiful older sister, Olga, rebellious Julia deals with her family's grief and the discovery of her sister's secret double life.

Autumn, Logan, and Shay have each lost someone they loved and seek healing in friendship and music to cope with their individual grief.

The true story of an agender teen who was set on fire by another teen while riding a bus in Oakland, California.

Harvard-hopeful Genie meets Quentin and is distracted by his good looks and his insistence that she has supernatural powers that she must use to help him fight demons.

Meet 29 feisty females—some world famous, some little known—in this collective comic biography.

By day, Prince Sebastian is heir to the throne; by night, he's the fashionable Lady Crystallia made all the more fabulous by Frances, his secret dressmaker.

Everyone has a dream—and this poem is a reminder to all the dreamers that their dreams matter.

Three generations of women in the Das family struggle to find their places in the world and to accept one another and their life choices.

While ruthlessly pursued by Prince Inan, Zélie, her older brother Tzain, and rogue Princess Amari, fight to restore magic to the land and activate a new generation of magi.