

“Our school is extremely poor. Recently a student came in wanting to check out a book on American government but the most current book in our library had a copyright year of 1964. Knowledge is power. Yet our students are denied access to knowledge because of the lack of current books.”

LaTonya Taylor
Library Information Specialist
Memphis, Tennessee

