

Tell Congress a new federal education bill must mean more opportunity and learning for students

Since adopted 12 years ago, No Child Left Behind has made no significant progress in closing achievement and opportunity gaps for students. Instead, it has perpetuated a system that delivers unequal opportunities and uneven quality to America's children making it impossible for educators to do what is most important: instill a love of learning in their students.

Call Congress Today 866-331-7233. Tell them to pass a new ESEA bill that provides opportunity for all students.

As educators, we have a chance to set a new vision for a public education system that promotes opportunity and excellence for ALL students.

- Create more opportunity for all students to receive a quality education, no matter their zip code.
- Reduce the amount of mandated standardized testing, and allow more time for students to learn and more time for teachers to teach
- Ensure every student has a qualified educator who is empowered to lead.

Join us in the fight to give every child access to a great public education. Call Congress today: 866-331-7233
