

WHAT YOU NEED TO KNOW ABOUT NEA HIGHER ED:

THE VALUE OF MEMBERSHIP.

Your national union can help you get the contract you deserve.

NEA Higher Ed maintains a comprehensive, searchable database of college and university staff and faculty contracts, as well as salary schedules, and has trained higher-ed leaders in the growing practice of bargaining for the common good.

Your union also can help you be a better educator

NEA's partnership with the Professional and Organizational Development (POD) Network is producing a robust, online library of Thriving in Academe guides.

...and improve your leadership skills, too.

NEA provides a variety of training opportunities and resources, including advanced workshops at the NEA National Leadership Summit, NEA National Education Support Professional (ESP) Conference, and pre-summit NEA Higher Ed conference.

Stay informed with NEA emails and webinars.

NEA Higher Ed members get the scoop from the NEA Higher Ed eAdvocate, which provides opportunities to advocate on federal legislation, learn about trends on campuses, and more.

Get a voice in the development of progressive policy.

NEA's Representative Assembly has committed to measures to promote safe campuses, equity for contingent faculty, and a balanced approach to online learning.

Be protected.

The NEA Educators Employment Liability (EEL) Program protects most union members with up to $1 million in personal liability coverage for incidents arising from their work.

Join us in standing up for social and racial justice.

NEA has committed to eradicating institutional racism in every level of education, and is working to protect immigrant students and employees, as well as LGBTQ students and employees, and is organizing faculty and staff on HBCU campuses.

And save money, too!

You don't join a union for discounts at restaurants and hotels... but NEA Member Benefits also offers financial services around home ownership, student loan repayment, and retirement planning, plus member rates on insurance access to the NEA long-term care program.
