NEA Summit Leaders #NEASummit
Dear Summit Participants

I enjoy nothing more than the privilege of traveling across our nation to witness firsthand the care and commitment of NEA members and leaders. No matter the setting—a school, a neighborhood, a community center, or a political town hall—NEA’s power as this nation’s largest labor union is evident and consistent. More importantly, that work remains deeply centered in helping every student succeed.

I often say that I have never been more proud to be an educator than I am today. That is because of your steadfast willingness to remain rooted to our collective responsibility: ensuring that every student—Black, White, Brown, Indigenous, or AAPI; students from underserved neighborhoods, LGBTQ+ students, and students who are disabled—experience the joy, justice and excellence they need and deserve to live into their brilliance.

During this moment in our nation’s history—a time when extreme-right politicians, policymakers, and pundits are working to dismantle our democracy by dismantling public education—I am indescribably grateful for your determination to do all that you can to guide, nurture, and protect every student. Your dedication to our students illustrates over and over again that you understand our opponents’ motive: in an effort to fulfill their own self-serving desires, and the whims of their wealthy donors, they are trying to whitewash and rewrite the nation’s history and marginalize LGBTQ+ students and educators.

The NEA National Leadership Summit serves as the ideal venue for us to learn from and encourage each other as we sharpen our activism and advocacy skills against these attacks and prepare to guide public education into the future. Public education is the foundation of an inclusive democracy, economy, and society, and as the leaders of the nation’s largest labor union, it is up to us to promote, protect and strengthen the entire system of public education so that it will continue to serve future generations.

With an important presidential election on the horizon, the trainings, connections, and experiences offered at the Summit will allow us to continue our ongoing responsibility to expand, refine and nurture our expertise and perspectives as leaders. Everything we gain at the Summit will strengthen our ability to step forward—in partnership, deep commitment and collaboration—with parents, communities, and public education allies to elect candidates up and down the ballot, from the school board to the White House, who share our commitment to our students and to creating a system of public education that will serve them all.

As in previous years, the Summit will be grounded in the knowledge, skills and behaviors that form the core of the NEA Leadership Competency Framework: advocacy, communication, governance and leadership; organizing, social and emotional intelligence, and strategy and fiscal health. No matter the various talents, perspectives, challenges, and priorities we each bring to our individual journeys as leaders, this framework has the strength to support us all.

With these competencies as our foundation, we will continue to look together toward our shared North Star of uniting not just our members, but the nation, to reclaim public education as a common good, as the foundation of our democracy, and then transform it into something it was never designed to be—a racially and socially just and equitable system that prepares every student, every one, to succeed in this diverse and interdependent world.

I look forward to seeing you in Chicago!

Sincerely,

Rebecca “Becky” Pringle
NEA President

Welcome to the 2024 NEA National Leadership Summit!

The National Education Association
We, the members of the National Education Association of the United States, are the voice of education professionals. Our work is fundamental to the nation, and we accept the profound trust placed in us.

Our Vision
Our vision is a great public school for every student.

Our Mission
Our mission is to advocate for education professionals and to unite our members and the nation to fulfill the promise of public education to prepare every student to succeed in a diverse and interdependent world.

Our Core Values
These principles guide our work and define our mission:

Equal Opportunity. We believe public education is the gateway to opportunity. All students have the human and civil right to a quality public education that develops their potential, independence, and character.

A Just Society. We believe public education is vital to building respect for the worth, dignity, and equality of every individual in our diverse society.

Democracy. We believe public education is the cornerstone of our republic. Public education provides individuals with the skills to be involved, informed, and engaged in our representative democracy.

Professionalism. We believe that the expertise and judgment of education professionals are critical to student success. We maintain the highest professional standards, and we expect the status, compensation, and respect due all professionals.

Partnership. We believe partnerships with parents, families, communities, and other stakeholders are essential to quality public education and student success.

Collective Action. We believe individuals are strengthened when they work together for the common good. As education professionals, we improve both our professional status and the quality of public education when we unite and advocate collectively.

These principles guide our work and define our mission.
Greetings NEA Union Siblings and Guests!

Welcome to the 2024 NEA National Leadership Summit!

In times that are increasingly complex, the importance of education as the cornerstone of democracy has never been clearer. Our theme, Education. Democracy. Freedom. Our Right! Our Responsibility!, underscores this important point and highlights our individual and collective work to fulfill our mission to advocate for education professionals and to unite our members and the nation to fulfill the promise of public education to prepare every student to succeed in a diverse and interdependent world.

That is why it is important for the Association to provide leadership development opportunities like the Summit for members and allies. Over the course of the next two and half days, you will have the opportunity to learn from and with educators, allies, and staff, to deepen your awareness and practice in the seven domains that comprise the NEA Leadership Competency Framework.

When applied, the knowledge, skills, and abilities you learn at the Summit uniquely position you to lead the Association and advance your career and professional goals, and this provides the NEA enterprise with the capacity needed to promote, protect, and strengthen public education. In fact, you can expect to hear more about this and our campaign at the Summit.

We invite you to engage, learn, and contribute your unique perspectives, whether during state connection sessions, breakout sessions, or during our networking time. We challenge you to make a firm commitment to your leadership development, including making a plan to assess your growth and concrete ways you will utilize your skills.

Throughout the Summit, and after it ends, you will be asked to provide feedback. We value your input and will use it in our design of future experiences.

Thank you for attending the Summit.

The National Education Association is committed to honoring the spaces that we occupy to advance the work. NEA begins each meeting by acknowledging that we meet on the traditional lands served by indigenous people. NEA honors America’s First People and all elders, past, present, and emerging.

Thank you to Josee Starr and the Mitchell Museum of the American Indian.

The Mitchell Museum of the American Indian, located in Evanston, Illinois, is one of a handful of museums across the country that focuses exclusively on the histories, cultures, traditions, and arts of Indigenous peoples from the United States and Canada. Since its founding in 1977, the museum has become a cherished resource and education center committed to promoting a greater understanding of Indigenous peoples and serving as a space to celebrate their diverse cultures, rich histories, and present-day experiences and contributions.

State Connection Sessions For Leadership Development

The purpose of this session is to provide leaders with a space to engage with attendees from their respective states. It aims to reinforce the Summit’s objectives, facilitate networking opportunities, and offer time for brainstorming and planning for ongoing leadership development after the Summit concludes.

• Friday, March 1, 5:00 pm – 6:00 pm CT
• Saturday, March 2, 4:30 pm – 5:30 pm CT

Caucus and Council Meetings

The Summit affords participants with an opportunity to attend sessions facilitated by leaders of several NEA caucuses and councils, during which they share information about the purpose of the caucus and Council leveraging the shared interests of members across multiple communities, interests, and identities.

• Saturday, March 2, 3:15 pm – 4:15 pm CT

Summit Social Engagement

The Summit is in Chicago and Chicago is known for dancing. The Summit would not be a Summit without a dance party. Join us in the Riverside Hall for a dance party or grab your friends and take a picture on the Summit 360 cant! Maybe games are more your speed - we have those too. Networking is an important part of the Summit.

• Friday, March 1, 8:00 pm – 10:00 pm CT

NEA Governance Policy Resource Center

Prior to the Summit, attendees were invited to a pre-Summit webinar, led by one of eight 2024 NEA’s internal policy mechanisms: the NEA Strategic Plan and Budget Committee, Legislative Committee, and Resolutions Committee. These committees provide an opportunity for direct member input which shapes the direction of the union. Even if you missed the webinar, you can still add your voice. Visit the NEA Policy Resource Center online at www.nea.org/votingcenter to access key policy documents like the Resolutions, Legislative Program, and biennial Strategic Plan and Budget, all developed with member input and adopted by the NEA Representative Assembly. The site also offers background on standing NEA committees responsible for policy review and revision. Additionally, the platform enables direct communication with committee members, allowing you to ask questions, share ideas, and recommend changes to Association positions and activities.

Help Build Our Leadership Brand Via Social Media!

During and after the Summit, help us to amplify our impact by sharing your experience on social media platforms. Be sure to include the hashtags #ELLeaders and NEASummit. When you share, you broaden our reach and help increase awareness of the Summit.

SUMMIT FACEBOOK PAGE and edCOMMUNITIES GROUP (NEA LEADERSHIP SUMMIT ACTIVISTS)

As a Summit participant, you now have access to two virtual communities that allow you to expand your experience, network, get support, and continue your leadership journey beyond the Summit.

The “NEA Leadership Summit Activists” is a virtual community on NEA’s learning experience platform, otherwise known as edCommunities. To join, visit: https://www.edvsne.org, and search for “NEA Leadership Summit Activists”.

We have also created a group for past and future Summit participants on Facebook. This is a closed group, “NEA Summit Leaders.” We invite you to request to join - https://www.facebook.com/groups/neasummitleaders

A special thanks to NEA members Mandi Jung and Talisa Jones. Mandi and Talisa are member influencers who use their communication skills to create videos for NEA’s new project to demonstrate to their followers how union experiences, like the Summit, help them advance their leadership.

Mandi Jung is an educator (STEM) from Minnesota. Her previous campaign work with the NEA includes videos responding to the censure of Zephyr Teachout, the consequences of book bans during Read Across America, the experience of receiving death threats due to speaking out in support of trans students, and the impact of Minnesota’s universal free lunch program on students.

Talisa Jones is an educational support professional and food services worker in Virginia. Her past work includes a video for ESP Day during American Education Week where she discussed the importance of her job to make sure students have nutritious meals.

Summit Venue – Hyatt Regency Chicago

The Hyatt Regency Chicago is the city’s ultimate luxury hotel, providing an exceptional setting for the Summit. Take advantage of its world-class amenities as you engage with colleagues and explore the vibrant heart of the Windy City.

Leadership Competencies

NEA’s Leadership Competencies Guide is available online at https://www.nea.org/leadership-development

The vision of the NEA Center for Governance Leadership Development Team is to deepen the Association’s collective understanding of leadership development and what it means to be a “NEA Leader.” We view the development of education activists and leaders as a major strategy for enhancing organizational capacity throughout the NEA enterprise. The team will know it has been successful when it has accomplished the following:

1. NEA has a defined leadership brand that equips educators to lead and create systemic change in public education.
2. The NEA Leadership Competency Framework has been adopted and integrated at every level of the Association.
3. The development of leaders is embedded into every action, campaign, conference, convening, program and project.

Where to turn for Leadership Development Resources

The NEA has a variety of programs and resources to support education activists and leaders reach their leadership goals. To learn more, visit: http://www.nea.org/leadership-development

Leadership Competency Self-Assessment(s)

The NEA Leadership Competency Self-Assessments were designed to help NEA leaders identify their own areas of strength, as well as areas where they can improve. Individuals are strongly encouraged to complete the self-assessments as often. http://www.nea.org/leadershipdevelopment#selfassessment

NEA National Leadership Summit

NEA’s annual National Leadership Summit helps to develop activist leaders and prepare them with the knowledge, skills, and abilities necessary to lead relevant, thriving associations and to lead in their professions. Our unified, strategic, and interdisciplinary approach to leadership development reinforces and supports key leadership competencies in seven strategic areas. http://www.nea.org/leadershipsummit

Personal Leadership Development Guide [Template]

The Personal Leadership Development Guide [template] is intended for individual educators who are curious about their leadership and are ready to start their journey towards self-awareness to become stronger Association leaders (elected or non-elected) and stronger professionals. http://www.nea.org/leadership-development

Teacher Leadership Competencies

The NEA Teacher Leadership Competencies, developed for the Teacher Leadership Institute, are a resource for identification, reflection, guidance, and inspiration for classroom practitioners. The NEA Leadership Competency Framework was used in the development of these competencies which can be used as guideposts for professional growth. http://www.nea.org/assets/docs/NEA_TLCF_20180824.pdf

Education Support Professional (ESP) Professional Growth Continuum (PGC)

The PGC serves as a map of how Education Support Professionals (ESP) can grow professionally, by bridging the gap between current practice and a vision for a system of support that recognizes ESP as vital partners in student success. The NEA Leadership Competency Framework serves as a foundation for, and aligns with, the PGC to define the ESP the competencies they need to begin to accelerate their professional growth. http://www.nea.org/assets/docs/ESP_PGC_digital.pdf
2023 – 2024 VISION PRIORITIES

Early Bird Sessions

SATURDAY, MARCH 1, 2024

2:00 – 4:00 P.M. CT

Four concurrent sessions, each focused on increasing awareness of NEA’s strategic priorities

Advancing Learning and Well Being for All Students

Grand Hall I

Cap Rules Everything Around Me: Cultural Capital is Community Wealth

When we say C.R.E.A.M., we don’t mean cash. In this session, we will explore different forms of CULTURAL CAPITAL that add flavor, ingenuity, and value to our schools and workplaces. Dominant culture often focuses on the deficits of people from historically marginalized communities – a result of white supremacist ideology. It’s time to change the game. We will discuss ways to make CULTURAL CAPITAL rule everything around us for a more justice-centered union and liberatory education system.

Presenters: Gabriel Tanglao and Monique Atherley

Advancing Respect and Excellence for All Educators

Grand Hall K

Building Safe, Healthy, Inclusive & Future-Focused Learning

Often, when policy decisions are made that directly impact a student’s learning environment, those who directly work in that learning environment aren’t at the tables where crucial decisions are made (in spite of laws requiring them to be). In this interactive priority pre-session, participants will gain knowledge and understanding of major policy priorities, learn leadership strategies around education policy, and develop personalized steps to take upon returning home, to facilitate the passage of policies, regulations, and laws that students need to learn and thrive.

Presenter: Elic Senter

Securing a Pro-Public Education, Pro-Union Environment

Grand Hall L

Map out your Plan to Build Professional Learning in your Union

In this session you’ll learn how to identify professional learning that targets member’s needs. We’ll examine a professional learning theory that members and locals are using across the association and learn how to implement and scale that theory to strengthen public education. Leave the session with the beginnings of a plan that will help you and your colleagues build a culture of learning.

Presenters: Ambereen Khan-Baker and Saul Ramos

Organizing for Power: Engage, Recruit, Empower Our Members, Parents/Families and Allies

Grand Hall J

Member Power is Union Power! Year-Round Organizing as the Framework for Success in the 21st Century

In this session, we will explore the current landscape of union resurgence and vigorous attacks on union power and collective bargaining. Participants will learn about the NEA’s Year-Round Organizing Campaign (YRO) as a tool for state affiliates and locals to strategically position themselves for building and leveraging the NEA’s collective power to grow membership, increase member activism, and identify leaders.

ADVOCACY

ADV 100 A Transformational Approach to Transactional School Board Campaigns | Regency Ballroom A
---|---
Level 1: Foundational, Level 2: Mobilizing and Power Building
Through skits, panels, and whole group discussion, participants will learn why taking a transformational approach to organizing school board elections creates better outcomes for educators and students and increases engagement in the union. Participants will leave with skills to begin to operationalize transformational campaigns in their locals.

Presenters: Katie Lukins, Lindsay Ray, Elvys Arqueta, Sara Whelan

ADV 101 Advocacy: From Self-Awareness to Political Reform | Atlanta
Level 1: Foundational, Level 2: Mobilizing and Power Building
Participants will examine their levels of comfort when dealing with political issues and explore strategies to leverage their learning to propel themselves and others to advocate for needed change in education at the local, state, and national levels. After setting personal goals for moving themselves out of their political action comfort zone, participants will create a plan for how to improve their local association's political action involvement.

Presenter: Kristy Oborny

ADV 102 Bargaining for the Common Good | Acapulco
Level 1: Foundational, Level 2: Mobilizing and Power Building
Across the country, NEA affiliates are rethinking bargaining and advocacy and expanding their demands to include economic, social, and racial justice. This session focuses on strategies to build power and fight for the common good. Participants will be given the opportunity to reflect on their own local circumstances and challenged to consider how these types of strategies might be implemented in their local for impact in their schools and communities back home.

Presenters: Brian Beakler, Charles Holmes

ADV 103 Leadership to End Gun Violence: How to Prepare and Respond Using NEA’s New Gun Violence Crisis Guide | Toronto
Level 1: Foundational, Level 2: Mobilizing and Power Building
Preventing, preparing for, responding to, and recovering from gun violence in education settings requires thought, planning, and coordinated work. Using NEA’s new Gun Violence Crisis Guide as a framework, leaders in this session will identify leadership roles crucial to effective preparation and responses to gun violence, work through case studies in groups, conduct a gun violence leadership self-assessment, and begin to devise an individualized gun violence action plan.

Presenters: Joel Solomon, Ovidia Malina, Crystal Foxx
ADV 104 Learn How to Influence the Process: Federal Lobbying & Local Advocacy
Regency Ballroom B
Level 1: Foundational, Level 2: Mobilizing and Power Building
NEA members are everyday superheroes. They are the experts and know firsthand what our students need in order to have a safe, just, and equitable education. Learn how to take that knowledge and influence change with your elected officials—at the local, state, and national levels. We will show you the tools you need to build relationships and affect change. You will learn the ABCs of lobbying: share your local perspective; and understand how to use stories of real classroom experiences to your advantage.
Presenters: Kim Trinca, Mark Egan, Meg Gruber

ADV 105 LGBTQ+ Educators: A Must in Creating Safe Schools for All Students
Regency Ballroom C
Level 1: Foundational, Level 2: Mobilizing and Power Building
One of the best ways to make schools safe for LGBTQ+ students is to make sure that there are role models in schools that students can rely on. The best role models for LGBTQ+ students are Out Educators. Too often educators work in places where they fear retribution and possible job loss. This workshop will focus on the unique challenges faced by LGBTQ+ educators, provide strategies to overcome those challenges, and equip our allies to be effective advocates for the LGBTQ+ community.
Presenters: Frank Burger, Stacy Schmidt

ADV 106 Too Much Testing: Landscape and Strategy for Change
New Orleans
Level 1: Foundational, Level 2: Mobilizing and Power Building
In this session, participants will engage in a conversation about the inordinate amount of testing that takes valuable time away from teaching and learning. Participants will share and discuss examples from their states and districts, as well as use a state affiliate as a case study to analyze lessons learned for advocacy and policy change, workshop advocacy strategies, and plan a toolkit to combat high-stakes testing in their states and districts.
Presenters: Deb McCarthy, Harry Feder

ADV 107 Using Deep Canvassing to Win Elections (Part 1)
Hong Kong
Level 1: Foundational, Level 2: Mobilizing and Power Building
Two pro-education governors were recently elected in Pennsylvania and the use of innovative voter outreach methods by educators helped to make that happen. Deep Canvassing is a technique that allows members to speak with voters in their communities in a way that can actually change the outcome of elections. This course will teach you the basics of Deep Canvassing, and give you the tools you need in order to help you organize and win at the ballot box.
Presenters: Kevin Deely, Melissa Costantino-Poruben

COM 100 Media 101: Applying the Fundamentals of Working with the News Media to Everyday Comms Needs
Grand Hall MN
Level 1: Foundational, Level 2: Mobilizing and Power Building
Effective communication can inspire others to act, be a catalyst for changing public opinion, help a contract bargaining process, plant the seeds for new ways of thinking, or persuade audiences to your side. Utilizing the media can help amplify your voice by broadcasting your message. Professionals will share tips on using your credibility as an educator to win over hearts and minds. Participants will learn the fundamental skills of working with the media that can be used in everyday scenarios.
Presenter: Staci Mears

COM 101 Power of Storytelling: Using Your Authentic Voice to Galvanize and Inspire
Grand Hall L
Level 1: Foundational, Level 2: Mobilizing and Power Building
Everyone loves a good story and educators have the best stories. Participants in this session will explore ways to use stories from their personal experiences as educators to help advance student success, public education, and education professions. Session participants will gain a deeper understanding of how personal stories have the power to change attitudes, perceptions, and behaviors and win support for public education.
Presenters: Brenda Alvarez, Mary Ellen Flannery

COM 102 Public Speaking: Say What?! Fundamentals of Great Public Speaking
Grand Hall K
Level 1: Foundational, Level 2: Mobilizing and Power Building
Does speaking in public send you into a panic? This session will help you master the fundamentals of being a great public speaker. Great for beginners or those who are looking to polish their skills, this session will help you beat the nerves, defeat the “umms,” and feel more comfortable speaking in front of audiences large and small.
Presenter: Ramona Oliver

COM 103 Race Class Narrative: Telling Our Story and Organizing for Our Future
Grand Hall G
Level 1: Foundational, Level 2: Mobilizing and Power Building
“From Maine to Hawai‘i, every student—no matter what they look like or who they love—deserves the freedom to read books that inspire them to learn and to dream. GOV 102 Don’t Miss Me: Addressing the Needs of Educators of Color via Culturally Responsive Leadership
Gold Coast

Level 1: Foundational, Level 2: Mobilizing and Power Building, Level 3: Agenda Driving

The Indiana State Teachers Association conducted empathy interviews in 2020 and 2021 with educators of color (EOC). Data revealed that a majority of these members cited strong distrust of the association and/or their school district administration regarding racial transgressions made against them. In order for association leaders to properly address the racial transgressions dealt to EOCs, they must have a thorough understanding of implicit bias and the harm of stereotypes and be able to recognize microaggressions. By the end of the session, participants will be able to recognize the importance of social and racial justice training at all leadership levels, apply core NEA social and racial justice resources, and utilize the NEA Leadership Competency Framework to develop leaders.

Presenter: Wafa Safi-Hassan

GOV 106 What Does It Really Mean to be the Local President: Tips, Tricks, and Traps of Local Leadership
Level 1: Foundational, Level 2: Mobilizing and Power Building

Are you a local president or considering the role? This session hopes to provide you the opportunity to connect with others who understand the unique and sometimes isolating challenges of serving as a local president. Come learn what it means to serve the highest level of local leadership. The session is facilitated by a current and a former local president with experience in locals ranging from 800 to 9,000 members in union-friendly and union-hostile states.

Presidents: Tony Martinet, Donna Christy

Level 1: Foundational, Level 2: Mobilizing and Power Building

As NEA puts new emphasis on budgeting resources and rethinking strategies to build an “enterprise-wide” effective system of leadership development, the role of the state affiliate president in this work is paramount. Every state president has arrived at this moment having traveled a leadership development path and would not be in the role of state president without having demonstrated effective leadership along the way. For many, leadership has meant acting as a “hero” to inspire members, solve problems, organize programs, and respond to an increasingly complex set of challenges facing our organization. To truly build power, though, the role of the leader must be transformed from “hero” to “host,” and engaging members at all levels depends on creating and sustaining a network of leaders. In this session, which is the first of two sequential sessions on this topic designed for and led by state presidents, participants will explore the value proposition for leadership development, discuss what meaningful leadership development is, and answer the question of why leadership development matters. Participants will also discuss Hahrie Han’s How Organizations Develop Activists, which has arrived at this moment having traveled a leadership development path and would not be in the role of state president for leadership development, discuss what meaningful leadership development is, and answer the question of why leadership development matters. Participants will also discuss Hahrie Han’s How Organizations Develop Activists, which highlights the importance of leaders in committing to outcomes and committing to leadership development as the top priorities of the “Activist Ladder.”

ORG 101  Best Practices to Engage Students from Minority Serving Institutions in Our Union  Michigan 1B

Level 1: Foundational, Level 2: Mobilizing and Power Building

Minority serving institutions (MSIs) are vital for professional development in the US, educating 30 percent of undergraduates. MSIs were created to provide access to marginalized groups that were excluded from predominantly-White institutions (PWIs). MSI students are underrepresented within the NEA and state affiliate chapters are less common on MSI campuses. We must lead the change and create a different outcome. This session explores MSI impact and strategies to engage MSI students in the union.

Presenter: Demetrious Dove

ORG 102  Building an Inclusive Association  Michigan 1A

Level 1: Foundational, Level 2: Mobilizing and Power Building

This session will focus on the importance of building associations that are more inclusive by reaching out and uplifting the voices of members of color, new hires, education support staff, students, parents, community members, etc. in order to create schools where students and educators thrive. Participants will leave the session with ideas and action steps to take back to their locals with the goal of building sustainable community partnerships, increasing membership, and developing future leaders.

Presenter: Stephanie Teliez

ORG 103  Building Solidarity for Black Lives in Asian Communities  Roosevelt 1A

Level 1: Foundational

How do we build real, meaningful solidarity to fight anti-Blackness in pan-Asian communities? Why does anti-Blackness exist in pan-Asian communities? What are the historical and current driving forces behind it and what are their interests? In addition to addressing these questions, participants will gain a shared understanding of different strategies pan-Asian grassroots organizing groups are using to address and fight anti-Blackness and build cross-community solidarity.

Presenter: Roksana Mun

ORG 104  Making Your Meeting Pop!  Roosevelt 3B

Level 1: Foundational, Level 2: Mobilizing and Power Building

As an association, one of the main ways we communicate, disseminate information, and engage members and the community is through meetings. Creating fun, engaging, and meaningful meetings takes a little finesse, a lot of organizing, and preparation. Once you have established a great framework, you can take the guesswork out of your meetings. Come and learn key strategies and tools to support and hold members accountable for the information shared during your effective meeting.

ORG 107  The Secret Key to Increasing Member Engagement  Michigan 1C

Level 1: Foundational, Level 2: Mobilizing and Power Building

Member leaders will explore ways to move from being a “doer” to being a “leader.” Many of us are excellent in our work, but when given charge of a team, do we end up doing all the work so that it “gets done right”? We use examples from a former dormant local, revamped with effective leadership development strategies, organizing, strategic communication, and relationship building. These transferable strategies can help local leaders to increase engagement and organizational health.

Presenter: Alonzo Mendoza
SEI 103 Believe: Lessons in Unionism from Ted Lasso
Crystal Ballroom B
Level 1: Foundational

Union leaders and members must engage in self-reflection as they work to build union power. The ability to empathize with others and establish healthy relationships is key. Excellent examples of these skills are seen in the popular TV show, Ted Lasso. In this interactive session, we will explore clips from the show, and relate them to our work as unionists. The union values portrayed in the show, and how they relate to the NEA’s Mission, Vision, and Values, are a key focus of this session.

Presenters: Amy Wolfgang, Stephanie Cramer

SEI 104 In Search of More Respectful Interactions between People with and without Disabilities
Crystal Ballroom C
Level 1: Foundational

In inclusive schools, 67 percent of students with disabilities spend 80 percent of their time within general education settings. In this session, NEA leaders will grow in knowledge, empathy, and respect with people with disabilities by defining ableism, identifying and categorizing specific examples of ableism, and creating awareness of more respectful ways to interact with people with disabilities. Participants will then determine specific strategies to share this information with others.

Presenters: Traci Arway, Clinton Smith, Jen Curran

ORG 200 A Successful Community School’s Recipe that has Evolved into a Masterful Culinary Experience
Level 2: Mobilizing and Power Building, Level 3: Agenda Driving
In this session, participants will go with us as we revisit the recipe that led to our community school’s success thus far as presented at the NEA Leadership Summit 2023. We will discuss how our individual roles as education advocates have evolved to include mobilizing and power-building with other education leaders.

Presenters: Jay Howard-Brock, Arnetta West, Dana Brown, Rachael Taylor

ORG 201 Bringing Everyone to the Table: Engaging Members and Community in Collective Bargaining
Level 1: Foundational, Level 2: Mobilizing and Power Building
Collective bargaining gives educators a voice, but how do we get every member involved? This session will help you strengthen your association and build power during contract negotiations. We will help you to build a messaging plan, an escalation strategy, and engage each and every one of your members through online and offline organizing tactics to win at the bargaining table.

Presenters: Michelle Muñoz, Sydney Silka

ORG 202 Building a Successful Contract Campaign Toolkit
Level 2: Mobilizing and Power Building, Level 3: Agenda Driving
Discover how Camino’s comprehensive campaign resulted in a whopping 10% percent raise and a groundbreaking settlement that changed the lives of members and their community for the better! Locals of every size can build their toolkit for successful contract campaigns and beyond. Participants will learn successful tactics and practice skills that will combine real-world examples adaptable to every local, such as the power of information requests, offensive bargaining, and a student-centered framework in everything the local does.

Presenters: Cora Dillard, Karmen Lee Ortolfo

ORG 203 Elections Matter: Fighting for Public Education through Local Organizing in Vermont
Level 2: Mobilizing and Power Building, Level 3: Agenda Driving
In 2023, the Barre Educators Association (BEA) successfully organized to elect pro-public education school board members and pass a fair school budget. Challenges included anti-public education school board members and an inadequate proposed school budget. Key factors for success were organizing capacity, community partnerships, and member engagement in collective action. This session will review the work the BEA did and help participants plan for organizing in their own communities.

Presenters: Rachel Van Wiet, Sarah Hill

ORG 204 Meeting Members Needs in Our ‘New Normal’
Level 2: Mobilizing and Power Building, Level 3: Agenda Driving
Are you looking for ways to engage existing and potential members within your organizing efforts? Are you aware that NEA Member Benefits provides an additional value that saves members money and allows them to recoup dues dollars? Come and learn how you can incorporate this information into providing a way to engage and inform your members about the numerous savings opportunities that they have access to and significantly increase association loyalty!

Presenters: David Glenn, Guy Kendall-Freas

ORG 205 New Hire Organizing Campaign
Level 2: Mobilizing and Power Building
Participants in this session will discuss a new hire summer organizing plan that includes member organizer work, summer networking opportunities, a new teacher store, new hire orientations, educator university professional development opportunities, and follow-up connections. Participants will have the opportunity to learn from one another and share best practices in organizing new hire campaigns from their own locals and leave with many tools to support their locals’ initial planning for summer new hires.

Presenters: Joshua Brown, Emma Bade
ORG 206 Organizing Aspiring Educators to Join Our Movement for Strong Public Schools! Roosevelt 3A
Level 2: Mobilizing and Power Building, Level 3: Agenda Driving

Aspiring Educators (AEs) are the future leaders of our association. Therefore, it is important that we involve them in our fight for strong public schools. This workshop will support state and/or local leaders in understanding the different roles AEs can play in our fight, discuss how to build and maintain a meaningful partnership with local and/or state AE programs and discover how this partnership can strengthen our organizational capacity and ensure the success of public education.

ADVOCACY

ADV 300 I Got 99 Indicators and Test Scores Ain’t One:  Regency Ballroom A

How to Talk About Our Great Public Schools (Part 2)  Atlanta

Today, online apps judging schools are embedded in influential websites. “Independent” companies create ratings over-relying on test scores—a metric that fails to tell the whole story. In this session, we will discuss how to combat the mischaracterization of our beloved schools. Participants will receive advice for going “beyond the bubble” in evaluating schools and strategies for diminishing public overreliance on test scores and building key relationships to shape public perception.

Presenters: Christine DonFrancesco, Eric Senter

ADV 301 Leveling Up in Leadership: All Hands on Deck in Meeting Our Students’ Diverse Mental Health Needs  Regency Ballroom B

Educators are crucial in implementing collaborative efforts to address students’ mental health and physical needs in school. Research suggests these concerns have increased on many levels over the years, especially since COVID-19, making the impact of school staff intervention a significant difference in student outcomes. This interactive session will focus on best practices and resources that support students in addressing their diverse needs while encouraging optimal academic achievement.

Presenter: Cynthia Samuel

ADV 302 Moms Against Opportunity and Honest Education: Sowing Division for Political Gain  Acapulco

Organizations that claim to speak for parents are sowing division to secure political power. Their censorship proposals, anti-LGBTQ+ policies, and efforts to whitewash American history are merely the opening salvos in a campaign designed to undermine public education and advance a radical political agenda. In this session, we will learn about these groups, their agendas, and how the Biden Administration has responded. We’ll also explore what this all means for you, your students, and public education and what’s on the horizon in these areas with this administration.

Presenters: Susan Nogan, Stephanie Luongo

ADV 303 Power Concedes Nothing Without Demand:  Toronto

Educator Demands and the Biden Administration’s Response  Regency Ballroom C

President Joe Biden has billed himself as the most pro-labor president in American history, but what has that meant for students and educators? Join us to learn how educator voice shaped public education, worker’s rights, racial and social justice demands, and how the Biden Administration has responded. We’ll also explore what this all means for you, your students, and public education and what’s on the horizon in these areas with this administration.

Presenters: Susana O’Daniel, Tess Van Schepen

BOARD ONLY SESSION

BOD 002 RA Briefing and Planning Part One: What’s My Responsibility at the RA?  Plaza B

The NEA Annual Meeting encompasses not only the Representative Assembly (RA), but also all other scheduled activities including open hearings, state meetings, and social events. Participants will engage in conversations about the upcoming RA, address and discuss potential issues, and begin problem-solving in their roles as members of the NEA Board of Directors. This predominantly level 3 session connects multiple leadership competencies and is designed to move board members from mobilizing and power building to agenda driving.

Presenters: Angie Powers, Sherri Schwanz, Paula Merrigan
REVISED ORDERING OF SESSIONS:

ADV 304 We See You! Combatting Invisibility and Marginalization of Asian and Pacific Islander Educators and Students in Schools
Rebecca Elcart, Marlon Perez, Sarah Bailey
Level 1: Foundational, Level 2: Mobilizing and Power Building
Who are Asian and Pacific Islander educators and students? What challenges do they face? Using the leadership competencies as a framework, participants will explore how they can lead on these issues and create an action plan to validate and empower Asian and Pacific Islander students and educators, so they know they are seen and heard in their schools.
Presenters: Ramona Oliver, Merwyn Scott

ADV 305 Winning Funding for Great Public Education by Taxing Millionaires
Angela Snow, Rachel Kiley
Level 2: Mobilizing and Power Building, Level 3: Agenda Driving
This session will provide lessons from a 10-year campaign to raise $2 billion a year for education (and transportation) by requiring those with income over $1 million a year to pay their fair share. It will describe successful strategies and lessons learned in several NEA Leadership Competency Domains with our discussion of building an advocacy campaign for economic, racial, and social justice, implementing integrated communications strategies, and mobilizing and engaging members and allies.
Presenters: Max Page, Noah Berger, Jiron Mariani, Kristen Crowell

COM 300 Media 101: Applying the Fundamentals of Working with the News Media to Everyday Comms Needs
Staci Maiers
Level 1: Foundational, Level 2: Mobilizing and Power Building
Effective communication can inspire others to act, be a catalyst for changing public opinion, help a contract bargaining process, plant the seeds for new ways of thinking, or persuade audiences to your side. Utilizing the media can help amplify your voice by broadcasting your message. Professionals will share tips on using your credibility as an educator to win over hearts and minds. Participants will learn the fundamental skills of working with the media that can be used in everyday scenarios.
Presenter: Staci Maiers

COM 301 Power of Storytelling: Using Your Authentic Voice to Galvanize and Inspire
Brenda Alvarez, Mary Ellen Flannery
Level 1: Foundational, Level 2: Mobilizing and Power Building
Everyone loves a good story and educators have the best stories. Participants in this session will explore ways to use stories from their personal experiences as educators to help advance student success, public education, and education professions. Session participants will gain a deeper understanding of how personal stories have the power to change attitudes, perceptions, and behaviors and win support for public education.
Presenters: Brenda Alvarez, Mary Ellen Flannery

COM 302 Public Speaking: Say What?? Fundamentals of Great Public Speaking
Ramona Oliver
Level 1: Foundational, Level 2: Mobilizing and Power Building
Does speaking in public send you into a panic? This session will help you master the fundamentals of being a great public speaker. Great for beginners or those who are looking to polish their skills, this session will help you beat the nerves, defeat the “umms,” and feel more comfortable speaking in front of audiences large and small.

Learn more about this fundamental element of effective communication with deep exploration, hands-on learning, and practical takeaways that will improve your ability to inform, persuade, and lead.
Presenter: Tory Brown

COM 305 Social Media for Advocacy
Max Page, Noah Berger, Jiron Mariani, Kristen Crowell
Level 2: Mobilizing and Power Building
With 226 million Americans on social media, let’s unlock its potential to share our union’s vision. Join this dynamic session exploring digital storytelling including how to amplify your voice online as an educator across evolving platforms. Gain insights from our digital experts and gain best practices for platforms like Facebook, Instagram, and X (formerly Twitter), while we amplify your advocacy through digital organizing.
Presenters: Justin Conley, Elizabeth Barcelos

GOV 300 Our Union/Our Responsibility: Bringing the National Back to the Local
Brenda Alvarez, Mary Ellen Flannery
Level 2: Mobilizing and Power Building, Level 3: Agenda Driving
Each summer, approximately 6,000 educators meet at the National Education Association’s (NEA) Annual Meeting to debate the vital issues that impact American public education and set NEA policy and activities for the year ahead. These delegates represent the 3 million members of the NEA. How much of that work comes back to local members? This session will examine the connection between the NEA core values, the NEA Representative Assembly (RA), and the work of our locals. Participants will identify members’ needs and motivations for association involvement and consider how New Business Items from the 2023 RA can be leveraged to engage members in association work.
Presenter: Tony Martinet
This session will explore ways to have effective conversations about race and racial equity in our schools and workplaces. Participants will consider questions such as Who am I as an equity leader? What is the impact of race on my life and how does it show up in my work? It will challenge you not only to think critically about the effects of race on student achievement, but also on how it directly impacts students, our colleagues, and even ourselves. You will have opportunities to have meaningful, open dialogues about academic opportunity gaps in our schools and will consider how unconscious bias influences our relationships and actions.

Presenters: Primrose Cameron, Johnny Green

GOV 302 Structure or Agency: Improving Member Engagement in Your Organization
Gold Coast
Level 3: Agenda Driving
Structuration theory is the duality between structure and agency. Individuals must act within the confines of the various structures they find themselves in. However collective action, among agents, can change structures. There is no definitive cause and effect; structure and agency are interconnected. For our union to serve our members, we must both build member agency and revamp our structures. This session will examine our practices to see how we can increase member engagement through this duality. By the end of this session, participants will be able to use the lens of structuration theory to examine internal and external structures, improve and promote member engagement, and develop leadership skills.

Presenter: Sarah Tschiha

GOV 303 Organizational History and Development: Policymaking for Collective Identity, Unity, and Power
Haymarket
Level 2: Mobilizing and Power Building
This session will explore the history of the association dating back to its mid-19th century founding, the development of governance and policymaking structures, and pivotal moments that contributed to the identity of the organization and the making of the modern NEA. Participants will examine moments of organizational success and failure and how these moments have influenced the association’s direction and consider how the organization will successfully navigate and thrive in the 21st century.

Presenter: Paul Birkmeier

LOP 302 Performance Assessment in Practice
Michigan 3
Level 2: Mobilizing and Power Building
We will engage in an examination of performance-based assessment (PBA) as a teacher-driven practice. We will provide examples of quality PBA from around the country and in a variety of subject areas and grade levels. We will discuss the elements that make and allow for quality PBA. Participants will then workshop their own ideas for PBA for use in their classrooms and schools. They will come away with a model for developing, implementing, and promoting PBA in their districts.

Presenter: Harry Feder

LOP 303 Traditional to Transformative: Freedom Dreaming through Community Schools
Randolph 2
Level 1: Foundational, Level 2: Mobilizing and Power Building
To transform inequitable school systems, we must first imagine a better reality than the traditional one. Families should be viewed and respected as key informants, resources, and leaders rather than recipients of services. In this session, you will learn more about Community Schools and engage in visioning and goal setting to act on the information learned.

Presenter: Christina Gordon

LOP 304 Artificial Intelligence: Leading Education into the Future
Randolph 1A
Level 1: Foundational, Level 2: Mobilizing and Power Building
Over the past year, attention to artificial intelligence has blossomed. In this session, participants will learn about and discuss the implications of this technology for pre-K-12 and higher education classrooms, schools, institutions, and educators. We will also hear about the work of NEA’s Task Force on Artificial Intelligence and strategize about how to ensure that educators’ voices are at the forefront as this technology comes into schools and universities.

Presenter: Stacey Pelika

ORG 300 Finding Leaders and Issues to Beat Apathy in Your Union
Michigan 2
Level 1: Foundational, Level 2: Mobilizing and Power Building
This workshop will explore fostering a culture of participation and a union structure that encourages involvement. Special emphasis will be placed on how to mobilize members for training and maintaining layers of active member leaders who work together to advance their strategic priorities. Participants will leave with a mindset that members are the most powerful resource that a union has and tools to help build a stronger union.

Presenters: Christopher Zimmerly-Beck, Laura Latham

ORG 301 How to Run a Listening Survey and Subsequent Campaign
Michigan 1B
Level 2: Mobilizing and Power Building, Level 3: Agenda Driving
This session will explore the steps of planning and implementing a listening survey and how to use information from that survey for leadership and issue identification. We will cover the basics of operating a subsequent campaign that uses your identified leader and data, with escalating actions, to increase engagement and win.

Presenter: Elizabeth “Rae” LeGrono
In this session, interactive exercises introduce the concept of social justice and highlight the connection between social justice issues and education issues and policies. Participants explore the levels and types of social oppression and how those play out in their work settings. The session ends with an introduction to the four social justice principles and an overview of utilizing metrics, identify relevant metrics, and provide insights into setting benchmarks and evaluating impact.

In our ongoing quest for racial and social justice in education, it’s imperative that education unions establish clear metrics and benchmarks to measure progress and hold themselves accountable. This presentation will explore the importance of identifying metrics, differentiate relevant metrics, and provide insights into setting benchmarks and evaluating impact.

Attendees will leave with actionable strategies to promote racial and social justice within their union. Presenters: Sharon Shultz, Traci Arway
